

Editorial

Dear readers,

It is with great pleasure that we present the January to July 2023 edition of RCMOS - Multidisciplinary Scientific Journal The Knowledge. This volume marks the beginning of the third year of our journey in sharing multidisciplinary scientific knowledge.

In this edition, we have gathered a diverse selection of research and studies spanning a range of disciplines. From biotechnology to humanities, the articles presented reflect the dedication and commitment of scholars and researchers from around the world to producing new knowledge and solutions for current challenges.

We highlight the importance of interdisciplinary collaboration and innovative thinking in promoting sustainable development and addressing global issues. The diversity and relevance of the topics covered in this edition reflect our ongoing commitment to providing a platform for the exchange of ideas and significant discoveries.

We hope that the articles presented here can inspire new perspectives, technological advancements, and contribute to progress in various areas of knowledge. We thank all the authors for their work and contributions, as well as the reviewers and members of the editorial team for their efforts in the selection and preparation of this volume.

We wish you all enriching reading.

Sincerely,

Bárbara Aline Ferreira Assunção
